Soldiers' Insurance Reduced to $5,000

Administration Measure Is Reported in Modified Form to House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.-The Ad ministration soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill, designed as a substitute the future for the present pension system, was favorably reported to-day by a House committee.

Representative Parker, of New Jersey, cast the only vote against reporting the measure. He was opposed to bilities incurred in the service would the optional insurance feature, ex- range from $40 to $200 a month. pressing the view advanced by the private insurance companies that it would cost a tremendous sum of money and could not be administered fairly.

The principal change made in the bill by the committee was the reduc-$10,000 to $5,000. Another amendment adopted provides that the allowance of a widow shall automatically cease upon remarriage. Originally the allowance would have continued for two years after the death of the husband.

Bill May Pass This Week. Chairman Adamson said to-night the would be reported to morrow and sibly passed by the House this k. He is confident of passage, but anticipates strenuous opposition to it from the insurance companies and from the Pension committees of both Bitter Fight Expected.

The optional insurance section of the bill, around which the bitterest fight will wage, contemplates the issu-ance to officers and men, without distinction, of policies ranging from $1,000 to $5,000 for the duration of the $1,000 to $5,000 for the duration of the war only, at an estimated cost of $8 per $1,000 to the policyholder. Insurance companies recently are said to have declined to assume such war risks for less than $58 per $1,000.

Froposed alletments for dependents

f men in the service would range from $5 a month upward to $50, according to the number of dependents and their relationship to the men in service. A dependent wife with no children would receive $15 a month; with one child, $25; two children, $32.50, and for each additional child, $5. Upon death re-sulting from injuries a widow would

They started in a motor car,
And, in a driving storm.
The rain it soaked them head to heel The rain it soaked them head to he And rendered them unwarm. They got as far as So-and-So At one o'clock p. m.
Up stepped a young French officer And coldly halted them. He asked them for their papers. In parlez-vous Français; And they did show their papers This luscious August day. Their passports and their passes. The sponsor to-day was Miss Mary Graham Burrage, of Contoccook, a granddaughter of General Graham, The ship was 82 per cent complete when it slid into the water. The keel was laid last April, immediately after the declaration of war. The corporation has under construction two battle-cruisers, two battleships, twenty-four merchant ships for the Emergency Fleet Corporation and tentorpedo-boat destroyers for the navy. The battle-ship Idahe, which was launched last heir passports and their passes. Boxing News and Notes

By FRED HAWTHORNE-

For several months, now, we have been receiving through the mails yards of typewritten matter from one Joe Jacobs, who always signs himself, "yours in sport," and mostly these communications have had to do with Willie and Dave Astey, bantam and featherweight boxers, respectively. Some of these stories we have read and enjoyed and others we have just read. While giving the latest screed from Joe the "u and d" last night, the thought suddenly struck us that Jacobs had a motive in sending his endless chain of Astey stories this way. We may be doing Joe an injustice, but we can't escape the conviction that he wants to have these things published, and so we are going to please the bashful author for just this once.

Extracts from Joe Jacobs's Little Classics: 'Carrying a heavy coat of sunburn and hard as nails, Willie Astey, the HARD HITTING and AGGRESSIVE (that's the way Joe wrote it, little West Side bantamweight, arrived back in New York to-day, anxious for the coal weather to set in and enfor the cool weather to set in and en-able him to get started on what Willie hopes is a record-breaking campaign." There is more, lots, but compressed, it amounts to this, that Willie is going it amounts to this, that Willie is going to box Tommy Shea at Bridgeport on September 13, and Terry Martin at Providence on the 21st, both bouts at twelve rounds.

We have never seen a fiea in action on a hot griddle, but we imagine that it and James Joy Johnston, the Bad Boy Bandit, must have something in common, for James is hopping about these days just like a fiea in trouble. To-morrow night, as all the world knows, the Bandit will put on three star ten-round bouts at the St. Nicholas Rink, Ted-Kid Lewis vs. Albert Badoud, Joe Welling vs. Tommy Tuohey and Frankie Burns vs. Frankie Brown, being the attractions.

Without even waiting to take the gloves off their hands, Johnston and
